

My Journey

Labourer to Apprentice

This is Cam, who had previously been working as a site labourer for 1½ years.

In September 2019, Cam joined Morgan Sindall as a trainee Site Manager after wanting to further his career, and is currently studying part time a BSc (Hons) in Construction Management.

Cam, commenting on his journey with Morgan Sindall:

"I was first introduced to Morgan Sindall through meeting Peter Whitmore (Managing Director for Morgan Sindall Construction East) whilst playing at Bury St Edmunds Rugby Club. We got talking and I expressed an interest in pursuing a career in the construction industry. He made me aware of the application process and put me in touch with Chris Travers (Operations Director for Morgan Sindall Construction East) to find out more about the opportunities available.

I had an 'informal chat' with Chris Travers where he provided brilliant advice and perspective of the business as a whole, breaking it down more specifically to define my own goals. This was when I first realised the success of the company and that Morgan Sindall's aims matched my own ambitions."

What is a Site Manager?

A Site Manager is required to supervise and direct operations within a building project. They ensure work is completed safely, on time, and within the allocated budget allowance.

Peter Whitmore, Managing Director for Morgan Sindall Construction East:

"Cam has made a great start to his career in Morgan Sindall. Both Chris and myself were both struck by his enthusiasm and drive to take on a management role and we both agreed we could see excellent potential in him."

Employer comment:

"We believe the construction industry is an exciting and vibrant place to work and are looking for similar minded individuals to join the Eastern Business for 2020."

A final word from Cam...

"My experience with Morgan Sindall so far has been absolutely mesmerising. The team have been so welcoming and friendly. I have learnt so much already and wake up ecstatic to learn more! The professionalism of the company has ensured me that it looks after all employees and is certainly the company for me. Personally, I can't see anyone not enjoying their time at Morgan Sindall."
